One of the major highlights of Dr. Jitendra Singh's interaction was the announcement of a Rs 1,000 crore venture approved by the cabinet, is part of a broader plan to leverage India's growing base of nearly 300 space startups. In the open the sector to private players.

According to Dr. Jitendra Singh, this decision has helped ernment order issued here. unlock India's potential, allowing it to grow from a singledigit startup presence to an ecosystem with hundreds of space tech companies today.

"India's space economy will play a critical role in our country's growth," Dr. Jitendra Singh noted, referencing the global recognition India has garnered from achievements like the Chandrayaan-3 mission. He further highlighted the Gaganyaan mission, India's first human crewed space mission has been scheduled, which will include a female robot test flight as a final dress rehearsal before sending human astronauts into space. "Our advancements are not just about joining the ranks of other spacefaring nations, but also about leading with innovation, precision, and reliability," he added.

With the Bio E3 policy, Dr. Jitendra Singh underscored a vision for a "bio-driven" future, asserting that the next industrial revolution will stem from bioeconomy initiatives rather than traditional manufacturing. The policy, which covers Biotechnology for Environment, Economy, and Employment, is designed to create self-sufficiency in resources while reducing dependency on imports. A key objective, he explained, is the shift from petroleum-based resources to biofuel alternatives, enabling waste-to-fuel transformations and other sustainable practices.

"Our natural resources, including rich bioresources along us uniquely to drive this revolution," Dr. Jitendra Singh said. "We're tapping into the biotechnology potential of the regions, ensuring economic growth that is both inclusive resilience of its people. and environmentally sustainable."

Dr. Jitendra Singh also announced significant updates on Mission Mausam, an initiative launched within the first 100 days of Modi's third term, aimed at enhancing the accuracy in this region, waiting to be told. Reflecting on India's legacy in meteorology, he acknowledged that the sector has struggled to receive adequate investment until recently. "Now, we're not just forecasting the weather. We're helping citizens understand the implications of weather events and prepare accordingly," he said. New AI-driven applications will allow for hyper-local, hour-by-hour forecasts for farmers and other stakeholders who depend on reliable predictions. "Our aim is to deliver global-standard forecasts and move towards predictive models that empower our agricultural sector," Dr. Jitendra Singh emphasised.

impactful outcomes. He highlighted that such collaboration development has returned to Jammu and Kashmir but is essential to achieving India's broader developmental goals, with the science and tech sectors working cohesively to drive transformative results.

Dr. Jitendra Singh pointed to the India-Germany science partnership as an example of this whole-of-science vision. Germany, hosting over 50,000 Indian students and researchers, has become a preferred destination for Indian scholars pursuing innovative projects. EDITORIAL

Urgent need for road safety reforms in Jammu

The recent spate of fatal road accidents under the jurisdiction of the Nagrota police station, claiming the lives of five young individuals including a girl-has thrown a harsh spotlight on the glaring inadequacies in road safety measures in Jammu and Kashmir. The devastating incidents, occurring just days apart, raise serious questions about the efficacy of existing protocols designed to protect commuters on the perilous roads of the region. On Sunday, a somber atmosphere enveloped three families in Janipur after three young men, aged 20 to 22, lost their lives on the Jammu-Srinagar National Highway near Panjgrain. This was not an isolated occurrence; just days earlier, two NEET aspirants were tragically killed when their motorcycle collided with a truck on Tawi Bridge in Sidhra. These incidents are not mere statistics; they represent lives cut short and dreams extinguished, leaving families shattered and communities grieving. An inquiry has been launched to probe the circumstances surrounding these fatalities and to investigate potential lapses in the provision of proper signage and safety measures. This is a welcome step, yet it underscores a troubling pattern. Earlier this year, the suspension of six officials from the J&K Transport Department following a catastrophic accident in Akhnoor–where an overloaded bus plunged into a gorge, claiming 22 lives-highlighted systemic failures in the transport sector. The bus in question, designed for 55 passengers yet carrying 85, epitomizes a chronic neglect of regulatory norms and raises questions about enforcement and accountability. The state of Jammu's road infrastructure exacerbates this already dire situation. Many roads are poorly maintained and feature treacherous bends, effectively transforming them into "deathtraps" for unwary travelers. The dual issues of overloading and speeding remain rampant, leading to accidents that claim hundreds of lives each year. The urgency of reform has been previously recognized; a similar tragedy in Doda last November, which resulted in the deaths of 39 passengers, prompted the High Court of Jammu and Kashmir to establish an expert committee to propose preventive measures. Yet, despite these initiatives, fatal accidents persist. Statistics tell a grim story. According to the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways, from 2018 to 2022, J&K recorded 4,287 road fatalities. In 2023 alone, 883 people died and over 8,400 were injured in nearly 6,300 accidents, with Jammu district accounting for 171 of those fatalities. These figures are not just numbers; they represent a public health crisis demanding urgent attention. To truly address this issue, we need more than routine investigations after accidents. What is required is a comprehensive strategy that includes improving road infrastructure, enhancing driver education and training, and strictly enforcing traffic regulations. The goal must be to instill a culture of safety among drivers and pedestrians alike. Ensuring accountability is crucial for preventing future tragedies. Those responsible for maintaining safe roads and enforcing traffic laws must be held to a higher standard. The loss of life due to negligence and systemic failures is unacceptable. Our roads should not be a source of fear but rather a means of safe transit for all. In the wake of these tragic accidents, we must urge the authorities to take immediate and decisive action. Transforming our roads from perilous passages into safe routes for all requires dedication, commitment, and robust policy changes. The families affected by these tragedies deserve justice, and the people of Jammu and Kashmir deserve safe passage. It is time to prioritize road safety and ensure that no more lives are lost to preventable accidents.

Exercising to lose weight? High-intensity physical workouts may be more beneficial, especially for women, according to a study.

HIL 2024: Delhi franchise ropes in versatile Argentine Lucas Toscani

NEW DELHI, OCT 28

The Delhi-based franchise of the Hockey India League (HIL) has acquired the services of Argentina's attacking midfielder Lucas Toscani for the upcoming season of the hockey league, which is being revived after a long gap.

Toscani is a like-for-like replacement for ace German forward Christopher Ruhr, who opted out after being advised intensive rehabilitation by doctors following an ACL injury on his left knee, which he sustained back in January during the 2024 Paris Olympics qualifiers. The 25-year-old Toscani's acquisition is aimed at strengthening the Delhi SG Pipers' forward line and adding firepower to the team's goal-scoring abilities, in the absence of Ruhr. Toscani got his first call-up to the Argentine squad in 2019, when he made his debut during the inaugural season of FIH Pro League. national team, winning gold at the Pan Since then, he has made 60 appearances American Games in Santiago.

NEW DELHI, OCT 28

The Lucknow Super Giants (LSG) are gearing up for the 2025 Indian Premier League season by retaining their core squad, who were pivotal to their recent successes. Nicholas Pooran, Mayank Yadav, and Ravi Bishnoi are the three players set to be retained by the franchise.

The source privy to the development also confirmed to IANS that Pooran will be the front-runner to lead the side in the IPL

"The franchise is ready to show their trust in Pooran. He captained last year too and carries a vast experience of leading his national side too. So we will be continuing with his skills. Apart from him, we are going with spearhead pacer Mayank Yadav and Ravi Bishnoi," a source close to the franchise told IANS.

LSG's core bowling lineup is further strengthened with Ravi Bishnoi, the talented leg-spinner, who was retained in the 2022 mega auction as an uncapped player. Over the seasons, Bishnoi has evolved into a match-winner for LSG, known for his reliable economy and wicket-taking ability, helping LSG reach the playoffs in 2022 and 2023.
